

A Few "Back To School" Jokes

Teacher: Today, we're going to talk about the tenses. Now, if I say "I am beautiful," which tense is it?

Student: Obviously it is the past tense.

Dad: Why is your test score so low?

Girl: Because of absence.

Dad: You were absent?

Girl: No, the girl next to me was.

Teacher: Fred, the story you handed in called "Our Dog," is exactly like your brother's.

Fred: Of course. It's the same dog.

A teacher says to a student, "I thought I told you to go to the back of the line?"
The student says, "I did, but someone was there!"

A boy came home from school. "How much did you learn in school today?"
His mother asked.
"Not enough, I have to go back again tomorrow."

A teacher once asked a boy, "Where is the Dead Sea?"
The boy replied, "Miss, I never knew it was sick."

Teacher: Mark can you tell me what you would like to be in the future?

Mark: I'd like to be a billionaire and be famous.

Teacher: Interesting, what about you Esther.

Esther: I'd like to be Mark's wife!

Teacher: What is the purpose of having school?

Student: Without school, there wouldn't be a reason for holidays and summer vacation.

Shoes are required to eat in the cafeteria.

Socks can eat anywhere they want.

A teacher asked her first grade class to bring their birth certificates to class. When the time came to give them to her, David stood up and said very politely, "Teacher, I forgot my excuse for being born."

Principal: Well, Ronald, I hear you missed the first day back to school.

Ronald: Yeah, but I didn't miss it very much.

"Explain the theory of expansion and contraction," the teacher asked one of the pupils.

"A substance expands when it is heated and contracts when it is cooled."

"No wonder we have a long vacation in summer and a short one in winter," remarked another pupil.

Hey Kids!

We want you to have fun and enjoy playing in your yard!

Try to keep your fun activities in your OWN yard however.

We have received some complaints that kids have wandered into yards and flower beds without the owner's permission. PLEASE DO NOT walk on or otherwise damage other people's property.

Thanks for your cooperation and HAVE FUN!

My fellow teacher called for help—she needed someone who knew about animals. As a science teacher, I filled the bill. "Oh," she added, "bring a net." Expecting to find some kind of beast as I entered her classroom, I was greeted instead by the sight of excited kids watching a hummingbird fly around. Rather than use the net, I suggested they hang red paper by an open door. The bird would be drawn to it, I explained, and eventually fly out. Later, the teacher called back. The trick worked. "Now," she said, "we have two hummingbirds flying around the room."
